

Xenotransplantation and the LCT trials in New Zealand

July 17th, 2009.

LCT participated in a media briefing with the Science Media Centre on the subject of xenotransplantation. The briefing followed the New Zealand Health Minister's granting of approval for LCT to conduct clinical trials of its diabetes treatment, DIABECCELL®.

The briefing asked: What could the trials mean for New Zealand? What is the science behind them? And why is there a moratorium on xenotransplantation in other countries, including Australia